

EXCELLING AS AN EXECUTIVE

Thriving in the C-Suite

A recent Harvard Business Review article, “The Future of Leadership Development”, addresses professional development for executives. “Most executive education programs – designed as extensions of or substitutes for MBA programs – focus on discipline-based skill sets, such as strategy development and financial analysis, and seriously underplay important relational, communication, and affective skills.”

Leader Development Institute's mission is to bring quality professional development to the American and international workforce. Of that, most are geared toward mid-level managers, supervisors, and non-supervisory employees.

In this Success Series Seminar, the focus is to bring you to a higher level of thinking and leading, it is a mind-shift from what you have always done...to what you must do to stay in the game. How to rapidly adapt to changing conditions, new information, or unexpected obstacles.

What You Will Cover:

- Values based leadership-Who's really the boss
- Steps to determine what your team's time management problem might be
- Executives who make others smarter. Are you a multiplier or a diminisher
